Lady Law, Attorney Allyson Hope Cohen, Host of WTAGs Legal Ease and the Legal Analyst for the Jim Polito show invites you to exhibit at her Special Needs Planning Workshop.

Topics:

- The importance of establishing a special needs trust.
- SSDI and SSI – how to apply and receive the benefits you deserve.
- Transitional Planning for students with disabilities
- A Guide to Chapter 688
- Housing Options for Adults with Special Needs
- Employment Options for Adults with Special Needs
- Guardianship and Conservatorship

Reasons to Exhibit:

- As part of the broader special needs community, you know first-hand that the information and services that Families and Caregivers want and need is not readily available, nor is it easily accessible. Moreover, studies show that this community has a huge and growing need for financial planning information, support services, professional guidance, and a guide to available resources. Lady Law is bringing that all together under one roof and it promises to be an incredible opportunity for everyone involved.

- This workshop is a chance for you to come face to face with your target market in an environment which will foster planning and action.
- You will have the opportunity to be Lady Law's honored guest on Legal Ease broadcast on a Saturday on WTAG. You will have air time to discuss your services and/or products.
- There will be a limited number of exhibitors in each field.
- You will have time before the workshop begins, as well as time after the workshop ends, to meet with attendees.
- There will also be two fifteen minute breaks during the workshop when attendees will be encouraged to visit with Exhibitors.
- The event will be publicized on WTAG, during both the Legal Ease Show and The Jim Polito Show which is broadcast in Worcester and Springfield.
- The event will be promoted through email blasts and shared on social media by the many special needs organizations, with which we partner on a regular basis.
- In addition, the back of the workbook, which will be given to all attendees, will contain all of your contact information.
